Graduation Ceremony To Be In Field House

Formal Dedication
Scheduled May 30

By Bob Fain

More than 1600 students, 300 over the previous mark, will be graduated June 2 during ceremonies held in Memorial Coliseum. Another feature of graduation week events will be the formal dedication of the newly constructed Coliseum May 30.

Principal speaker for the commencement program will be John Sherman Cooper, former U. S. Senator and now special consultant to the Secretary of State. Also on the list of speakers are Dr. Daniel A. Politt, president and editor of the Christian Herald. His will be the baccalaureate message.

Thomas A. Ballantine, president of the Louisville Chamber of Commerce will speak at the alumni banquet June 1. Dr. J. D. Williams, chancellor of the University of Mississippi, and Dr. Henry H. Hill, president of Peabody College of Nashville, will be commencement luncheon speakers.

Fourteen Class Reunions
The commencement week will also see the reunions of 14 separate classes of the alumni. Most outstanding of the classes will be that of 1900. Most of these groups are planning reunion dinners and luncheons and at least one informal party.

Memorial Coliseum will be dedicated in honor of the 9285 Kentuckians who lost their lives during the last war. Their names have been lettered on permanent plaques which will occupy recessed wall panels in the Coliseum entry ramps. The building, costing four million dollars to build, was over three years in construction.

Total seating capacity of the structure is 12,000 during basketball games and with the addition of folding chairs 15,000. Approximately one-third of the seats are of the theater type and the remainder are of the bleacher type. More than 80 percent of the permanent seats are at the side of the court.

Permanent Basketball Court
The basketball court, laid on a sub-floor of concrete, is permanent and cannot be removed.

Because of near acoustical perfection, the auditorium can be used for lectures and concerts as well as sports events, conventions and all University convocations. Appearances have already been scheduled by James Melton, the London Philharmonic Orchestra, Arthur Rubenstein, Jascha Heifetz, the Don Cosack Chorus, and the Dallas Symphony Orchestra.

Lecturers include Elmer Davis, Charles Laughton, and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Part of the permanent equipment includes a large electric organ, facilities for radio and television broadcasts, and ample space for the working press.

Offices in the building include those for all coaches, and athletic directors, and the sports publicity offices. Also located in the new building are locker rooms for football, basketball, baseball, and all minor sports.

New Kentuckian Schedule Announced

Kentuckians will be distributed to undergraduates who have subscriptions on May 24-25 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Room 55, McVey Hall. Students should bring their receipts.

Distribution to graduating seniors will begin on May 26. Subscription receipts will not be needed. Seniors with names beginning with A through H may get the Kentuckian on May 26, I through P on May 29, and Q through Z on May 31.

On Wednesday, May 31, anyone who did not get Kentuckians at the scheduled time may pick them up. Students who do not have subscriptions may sign for them. They will be distributed if there are any remaining copies.

A distribution date for seniors graduating in August will be announced later.

Yearbooks MUST be claimed by Jan. 1, 1951, or the claim will be relinquished.

Best Students In Law Study To Get Books

Prizes of law books ranging in value from five to fifty dollars will be awarded to outstanding students in the College of Law. The cooperation of law book publishers will make it possible for these to be awarded annually beginning this year.

Prizes will be given to the winners and runners-up in the Law Club competition. Books will be awarded for the best performance in practice court and to the three students who make the best contributions to the Law Journal.

Books for outstanding scholastic achievement will go to the students having the highest standings in their first, second, and third year work; to the student making the greatest improvement between the first and second years and to the one making the best scholastic progress in the senior year.

The student having the highest cumulative standing at graduation will receive an award along with those having the highest grade in each of the required courses.

4 UK Coeds Accept Social Welfare Jobs

Positions in Girl Scout and welfare work have been accepted by four UK girls. The appointments will become effective immediately following the student's graduation. The girls, all of the Department of Social Work, are Sara Mae Green who will go to Cleveland as district director of Girl Scouts of Cleveland, Mrs. Marjorie Rhorer will join the staff of the Louisville Welfare Department, and Nancy Ramey and Betty Gorham have accepted positions in New York with the Henry Street Play School.

Interfraternity Men Name McCann Leader

Bill McCann, student in the College of Law and a member of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity, has been elected president of the Interfraternity Council for the coming year.

Blair, Anderson, Shinnick Named Editors Of Kernel And Kentuckian

Publications Board Appoints Seven Others To Staffs

Three editors-in-chief and seven other editors and staff members were appointed to The Kentucky Kernel and The Kentuckian by the Board of Student Publications Tuesday afternoon.

Janet Anderson, journalism junior, was named editor of the fall Kernel, and Mary Shinnick, journalism sophomore, was appointed editor of The Kentuckian. Nell Blair, journalism senior, was named summer editor of The Kernel.

Tyroler Is Named
Other Kentuckian appointments made by the Board of Publications are Charles Tyroler, managing editor, and Fred Dorr, business manager.

Dick Macke was named managing editor of the fall Kernel and Rosemary Hilling was appointed news editor. Joan Cook was elected business manager for both the summer and fall Kernel. Other fall appointments include Bob Gorham, sports editor; Clara Early, society editor; Bill Mansfield, assistant managing editor, and Kathryn Whitmer and Edward M. Coffman, assistant news editors.

Fain Is News Editor
Other appointments to the summer Kernel staff are Joe Lee, managing editor, and Bob Fain, news editor.

Miss Anderson, a recent initiate of Mortar Board, has worked on the Kernel news desk and copy desk this year, and as a reporter. She is also an associate editor of the Kentuckian. Her other activities include Theta Sigma Phi, Alpha Lambda Delta, YWCA cabinet, Pitkin Club, and the Women's Glee Club. She was the recipient of the Kentucky Press Association award last year.

The recipient of the Kentucky Press Association award at the Honors Day convocation this year, Miss Shinnick is managing editor of the Kentuckian. She was associate editor last year. A member of Chi Omega sorority, she is publicity chairman of Troupers, a member of Phi Sigma Iota, Alma Mater, Women's Athletic Association, and the Koffee Club.

Dorr Is Commerce Junior
Tyroler, a journalism junior, is assistant managing editor of The Kentuckian. He is a member of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity and former manager of the track team.

Dorr, a Commerce junior, is now assistant business manager. He is social chairman of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, a member of SGA, the Student Union Board, Scabbard and Blade, and the College Chamber of Commerce.

Macke, a journalism junior, works on the Kernel copy desk and is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. Also a recent initiate of Mortar Board, Miss Hilling is assistant news editor of the Kernel. A journalism junior, she is a member of Theta Sigma Phi, editor and vice president of the Newman Club, and national recording secretary of the Newman Club Federation.

Joan Cook, journalism senior, is a member of The Kernel advertising staff and has held the positions of business manager and assistant managing editor. She is also assistant business manager of the K-Book, a member of the WBKY radio staff, and publicity chairman of Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

Board Members Listed
Lee, journalism junior, and a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, works on the Kernel copy desk and was head feature writer. Fain, also a journalism junior, works on the news desk and is a reporter.

College Of Home Ec To Hold Open House

The Home Economics staff and classes will hold open house from 4-6 Tuesday afternoon, May 23 at the Home Economics building. Fifty guests have been invited including parents of the students, heads of the departments on campus and other friends.

Students May Obtain Registration Card's Early

Students planning to register for the summer session and those who will not attend summer school but who expect to register for the fall semester in September, may obtain registration cards at a special booth in the basement of the Administration Building. The booth will be open from 9-12 a.m., and 2-5 p.m. on May 23-27.

Eight Pole Lighting System Will Illuminate I-M Field

Arrangements are being completed this week for the installation of an eight-pole lighting system on the intramural field behind Alumni Gym by Omicron Delta Kappa, national senior men's leadership honorary, and University officials.

Preliminary plans drawn by the electrical engineering department call for three large poles on each side of the field with an additional pole at each end. The system will include no overhead wires, all being encased in underground conduits.

This project will be financed largely by the proceeds of the ODK sales. A total of $2000 is now in the ODK project fund for this purpose.

To date, the lowest bid received has been submitted by the University Department of Maintenance and Operations. The department presented a figure of $3500 for completion of the project, now definitely planned for the summer months.

To increase its funds, ODK asked for and received from the Student Government Association, an appropriation last week for $500.

The remainder of the estimate, approximately $1000, will be advanced to the organization by the University, to be liquidated by ODK from tag sales this fall.

When all bids on the project are in the hands of the committee headed by Mr. Frank D. Peterson, comptroller of the University, the contract will be let, and work will commence as soon as possible. Both ODK and the University expect the project to be completed well before the fall, 1950, semester.

6500 Attend Music Festival

More than 6500 high school students from various schools all over the state attended the twenty-sixth annual State High School Music Festival held on the campus last week. The event was sponsored by the UK Extension Department.

Of the total, approximately 4000 competed in the vocal section and the remainder were competitors in the instrumental section. The program ended Friday night, with the program presented by the 700 voice all state chorus.

Judges in the event were professors Nathaniel Patch, Ford Montgomery, and James R. Floyd, all of the UK Department of Music; Donald Allton, University of Oregon; Haskell Boyter, Atlanta City school system; and Charles F. Bryan, Peabody College.

Troupers To Give Final Show Tonight

The UK Troupers, University talent organization, will give the final performance of their spring show tonight at 7:30 p.m. in Alumni Gym.

Tickets for tonight's show are on sale at Williams Drugs, Graves Cox, Saloshin Drug, and Shackleton's. Tickets are 60c for adults and 30c for children.

1925 Grad To Address UK Alumni

Thomas A. Ballantine, president of the Louisville Chamber of Commerce and a member of the class of 1925, will be principal speaker at the University's alumni banquet June 1. Miss Helen King, secretary of the Alumni Association, has announced.

Ballantine received his law degree from UK in 1925 and has practiced law in Louisville since his graduation. He is now president of the Louisville Taxicab and Transfer Company and a director of the University Athletic Association.

Other speakers at the banquet, which will honor 14 University classes from 1900 to 1944, will be J. Stephen Watkins, president of the Alumni Association; President H. L. Donovan, who will greet the alumni on behalf of the University; and President Emeritus Frank L. McVey, who will speak especially to the classes from 1922-1925, all of which graduated under his administration.

Returning classes will include the classes of 1900, 1903 through 1906, 1910, 1922 through 1925, and 1941 through 1944. Members of the class of 1900 will receive Golden Jubilee certificates. Members of the College of Engineering's class of 1920 also will return to celebrate the thirtieth year of their graduation.

The annual meeting of the Alumni Association at which officers for the coming year will be announced will be held immediately after the banquet.

Bob Gregory Elected President Of Lances

Robert Gregory, pre-medical student from Covington, has been elected president of Lances, junior men's leadership honorary society.

Speech Ends Language Meet

Educators from 23 states, Canada, and England participated in the third annual Foreign Language Conference which was held on campus last week. Theme of the conference and keynote of many of the lectures and papers presented was "Ways to International Understanding."

Dr. Irwin T. Sanders, "Distinguished Professor of the Year," gave the opening address. His topic was "A Study of Social Change: The Peasant in Eastern Europe."

"Thirty million Eastern European peasants now are faced with the threat of ultimate class liquidation as a result of Communism's postwar spread through Russian satellite countries," Dr. Sanders said.

Korfmaier Speaks
Dr. William C. Korfmaier, head of the Department of Classical Languages at St. Louis University, told the UK audience "it is time to provide our educational ship with sturdy anchors."

Foreign languages, he said, would provide one such anchor for the nation's general education program. Language study is a distinct service to the student of English, helps to banish provincial outlooks, and provides a ready means of understanding other peoples, the speaker continued.

Delegates heard a description of the Yale University Goethe collection by Dr. Carl P. Schreiber, curator of the collection for 22 years.

Veterans Changing Colleges Must Get VA Approval

Any veteran planning to change colleges within the University must apply at the Veterans Administration between May 22-June 10 for permission to do so. Such changes must have prior approval by the VA in order to be effective.

Also any veterans who wish to transfer from the University of Kentucky to another institution may file a Supplemental Certificate of Eligibility beginning on Monday.

Schlesinger Praises Goethe
Earlier, the conference delegates had heard an address by Dr. Edmond Schlesinger of the University of Louisville in which he called the German author a man "whose greatness illuminates the ways to international understanding."

Dr. A. J. Dickman, head of the Department of Modern and Classical Languages at the University of Wyoming, warned that the United States must continue its European aid program or risk all that has been gained by the millions of postwar assistance.

Dr. Dickman, a native of Belgium but now an American citizen, stated in an address at the conference's closing session, that Western Europeans still fear Germany more than they do Russia.

28th ROTC Field Day Will Take Place Monday

The twenty-eighth annual ROTC Military Field Day will be held on Stoll Field, Monday at 2 p.m.

The program will include company and squadron competitive drill, individual competitive drill, exhibition drill by Pershing Rifles, and an exhibition drill by the Confederate drill squad.

Companies A and D, commanded by Cadet Capt. D. C. Stamer, and Cadet Capt. D. C. Newberry, representing the army, and squadrons B and E representing the Air Force, and commanded by Cadet Capt. Eugene Spencer and Cadet Capt. C. A. McLean, drill for the Col. George D. Freeman Trophy.

Cadets competing in the individual drill for the American Legion Man of War Post No. 8 are Company A, W. E. Fluhr, and C. M. Price; Company B, J. L. Kingsbury and C. W. Snyder; Company C, J. C. Brainerd and B. G. Baltzell; Company D, T. B. McHugh and D. R. Dowden; Company E, F. V. Ramsey and W. S. Magoffin; Company F, H. J. Grail and B. C. Gibson; Squadron A, L. T. Walters and G. V. Turner; Squadron B, J. I. Gregory and R. M. Short; Squadron C, F. P. Cox and L. C. Flowers; Squadron D, William D. Hamby and William G. Rose; Squadron E, M. K. Abbott and C. Baumann; and Squadron F, P. E. Galloway Jr., and L. G. Feleske.

Awards To Be Presented
At the close of the program the following awards will be presented: University of Kentucky Cup, to company or squadron with the highest scholastic average; Reserve Officer Association, Central Kentucky Chapter, Awards, to outstanding first year advanced students and graduating seniors in Infantry, Air Force, and Signal Corps; Rotary Club Trophy, to member of advanced ROTC selected by his classmates as excelling in requirements for good citizenship; Cooperative Club Trophy, presented to advanced ROTC student selected by a board of Army and Air Force Officers as outstanding and as possessing those qualities necessary for making an officer and a gentleman.

Air Force Association Medal, to the outstanding distinguished member of senior division Air ROTC; Armed Force Communication Association Medal, to the outstanding ROTC communications student (Signal Corps); Lafayette Hotel Trophy, to the member of first year advanced having the highest average in military science for the year 1949-50; Kiwanis Club Trophy, to the member of second year basic having the highest average in military science for the year 1949-50; Phoenix Hotel Trophy, to the member of first year basic having the highest average in military science for the year 1949-50; and the Lexington Leader Trophy, to the member of the ROTC rifle team having the highest record in team competition.

Cadet Captain Mack J. Morgan will command the Pershing Rifles exhibition drill and Cadet Lt. William F. Lawson the Confederate drill squad exhibition drill.

Judges for all competitive drill are Lieutenant Colonel Ralph L. Dalton, Inf. Ft. Knox; Major James R. Sykes, Inf. Ft. Knox; Major Verdie E. Moore, USAF, Godman Air Force Base; and Capt. John P. Turnbull, USAF, Godman Air Force Base.

In case of inclement weather the program will be held in Alumni Gym.

UK Professor Given Award

Gordon Godbey, head of the Bureau of Audio-Visual Materials of the Department of University Extension, has been awarded a fellowship for one year of graduate study at Harvard University.

Godbey was the only Kentuckian to receive one of the fellowships, offered for the first time this year by the Harvard Graduate School of Education. Only five fellowships were awarded for a period of two years.

Godbey, who will leave Sept. 1 and return July 1, 1951, was chosen in a competitive examination which included a seven hour exam, a statement of his purpose, and an evaluation of his life history.

Under the terms of the fellowship, Godbey may study for nine months in any field he chooses. After completing his study he plans to resume his duties at the University.

Certificates Available To Foreign Students

Foreign students attending the University who complete one or more semesters, but who do not obtain a degree, will be given certificates of attendance, Dr. A. E. Bigge, foreign student adviser, has announced.

Movie, "Nicholas Nickleby", Has Three Showings Today

"Nicholas Nickleby", based on the novel by Charles Dickens and starring Sir Cedric Hardwicke and Deric Bond, will be shown today in Memorial Hall at 3 p.m., 7 p.m., and 9 p.m. Admission is 40 cents.

Louisville Soprano To Sing At Guignol

Miss Martha Graham Hill, soprano, and instructor in the School of Music at the University of Louisville, will present an hour's program in the Guignol Theatre, Wednesday, at 8 p.m.

This is an exchange program with the UK Music Department. The public is invited to attend.

Senior Lunch Will Be June 2

A commencement luncheon in honor of the graduating seniors and their families will be held in the Bluegrass room of the SUB Friday, June 2 at 12:30 p.m.

Tickets for the annual event can be purchased for $1.25 each at any of the Deans' offices and at the office of the Social Director, room 122, SUB. These tickets must be purchased before 4 p.m. Wednesday, May 31, Miss Margaret Bruce Cruise, chairman of the luncheon, said.

The luncheon is under the direction and sponsorship of the Commencement Committee.

Carolyn Critchlow Crowned As May Queen; PiKA And KAT Have Prize Winning Floats

Crowning Ceremony Follows Parade

Carolyn Critchlow, Kappa Alpha Theta candidate for May Day Queen, received the royal crown from President Herman L. Donovan at the May Day coronation ceremony Saturday.

First and second attendants in the May Day Court were Mary Jo Ridley, Alpha Delta Pi, and Jane Barnett, Alpha Gamma Delta. Other attendants were Doll Price, Kappa Delta; Barbara Powell, Patterson Hall; Nancy Camp, Delta Delta Delta; Doris Walker, Independent; Janice Stille, Alpha Xi Delta; and Doris Eith, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Miss Critchlow, junior art major, was also recently named "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," and first attendant to the Kentucky beauty queen. President of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, she holds membership in Tau Sigma and the Panhellenic Council.

Suky awarded trophies for the winning floats in the May Day Parade to Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, whose float title was Independence Day, and to Kappa Alpha Theta sorority for their float titled "Over the Rainbow." Honorable mention was given to the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity float of Lincoln's Birthday, and the Alpha Delta Pi sorority float, "Stardust."

New members admitted into Suky, after a year's training period were announced at the May Day Dance Saturday night in the SUB. They are Bob Link, Joe Grimes, John Godfrey, Marjorie King, Julie Blumenthal, Dan Candiff, Eloise Cooksey, Joyce Alman, and Dave Bere.

Jo Ann McKenna, Patsy Haynie, Robert Layman, Bobby Dean Yates, Bill McClure, Betty Riggles, Lou Tombs, Marlene Miller, Reva Duncan, and Kenneth Fagan.

Messrs. Guthrie, Travelstead Were Innocent Victims

The Kernel regrets that somewhere along the line of transforming raw copy into last week's BookKernels feature, the name of the book reviewed, "The Way West," was omitted, leaving the impression that Mr. Guthrie wrote it himself. Actually, the review was written by Bob Cox, whose by-line should have appeared at the end.

Also, in the same vein, the article in the previous week's Kernel about the concert series to be held at the Coliseum was misleading. It was inadvertently retrieved from an old galley of type, and was outdated. No tickets remain on sale for the series—in fact, more than 1000 people are already on the waiting list. To Mr. Chester Travelstead we offer our apologies for any inconvenience it might have caused him.

Pity The Poor Senior

Many whole-hearted complaints have drifted into the Kernel office since the recent mandate requiring graduating seniors to attend classes even after examinations have been completed.

Most of the offended have demanded an editorial attack on the edict; none has ventured an argument which sounds authoritative enough. The truth remains that although a long and honored tradition was suddenly discarded, it was done within the framework of the laws of the powers that be. One doesn't argue with the sergeant.

But since no emphatic decree stated that seniors must be attentive as well as in attendance, we're sure that any number of recreational devices discovered during four years of lectures can be brought into play. But to mention them here would be sheer folly—we hope to graduate, too.

LETTERS to the Editor

Contra "True Or False"

Editor, The Kernel:

In bringing up the matter of "true or false questions" and appraising this method of grading, I realize I am criticizing a device of the American system of education—a criticism which may be considered improper, when coming from an "exchange student," however, the exchange of students should be supplemented by the exchange of critical (and constructive) ideas. So here I go.

I am opposed to the true-or-false questions. These are my reasons:

1. They do not respect an academic mentality. Studying any subject, and especially in the man-made, talkative social sciences we find that matters are never either black or white, true or false. To illustrate the educational statements simplifying devices may be used.

(The teacher may say: "The sky is blue." But it is childishly unscientific to stick to these simplifications once an insight in the matter at hand has been reached, because the statement that "this law is good" might refer to its ethical purpose, its virtues in application

SO WHAT?—Charles Fentress snapped this shot just as the last of the May Queen's attendants swept by in the recessional at Stoll Field. He didn't get the girl's names, but it wasn't because they were awed by the proceedings—they're definitely not interested.

and even to the comparative "betterness" or "less worse-ness" in regard to other laws.

Moreover these simplifications confuse cause and result, because the statement "the profits of the company are high" may not be the originally distinguishing feature of that company as its profits can be the rightly deserved yield of great efforts in service and skill under given circumstances.

These simplified wordings are not clear, and mostly not exhaustive. Especially for foreign students the simplified true or false statements are apt to be confused with the figures of good old American speech.

Some instructors might seek defense against these arguments on the moral grounds that they do not intend to give "trick questions." But a moral defense against a scientific argument is inadequate.

2. To answer a true or false question, a rough unco-operative mentality is required. Instead of developing men who are willing to use a scientific approach to problems and seek team spirit and co-operation for a common cause, the system of true and false questions leads to men who answer problems with a short "yes" or "no," thus cutting off all possibilities of debate, and discussion.

When it is generally recognized that — especially — international problems should be solved in consultation of the involved authorities, true and false questions harm international development. These consequences are unacceptable.

Concluding, we find that true and false questions are of unacademic character and do damage to the mind of international team spirit.

I suggest that such a method of examination be dropped.

Student Center
Tulane University
New Orleans, La.

All-American Tulane Hullabaloo

In New Orleans, Louisiana, a favorite gathering spot of students at Tulane University is the Student Center because it's a cheerful place—full of friendly collegiate atmosphere. And when the gang gathers around, ice-cold Coca-Cola gets the call. For here, as in university haunts everywhere—Coke belongs.

Ask for it either way... both trade-marks mean the same thing.

DAISIES FOR SCHEYER

(The following was contributed by a chemistry student, and is, in all probability, of interest to his fellows. But for the life of us, we don't know what it means—Ed.)

I trust, fellow sufferer, that you
Spent your last hours in the Annex revising?
That noose around your neck,
Was it hard upon the apple?
And the Arsenic he slipped
Into your Unknown Scapple;
Did it lame you?
Did it pain you?
Did it blister, burn, or maim you?
Many times he's made amendments to
Your iron constitution,
Digesting lead or steel instead
Of lobsters at a luncheon,
And our bones grew re-upholstered
Every time on our suit so dear.
Rest assuredly this course would have been gone
Had the shoveling been done by Long.
Or could recitation been in better hands
Than under the direction of this Kibler man?
Forgive me, if this poem sounds crazy
For I fear it means a daisy
On MY vest by Friday's Final.
By the ruffians we've enraged-ed
We've been slightly disengaged-ed
From our ribs and hips and
Other things more spinal.
But Saturday's dawn will surely find us,
Creeping bravely, staunchly home,
Wagging our burnt off arms behind us
Dragging our heads by the hair it's grown.
Dear Murderers: Become reverters!
Dear Murderers: Pray rest at ease!
For Chemistry will never, never pay
Until Scheyrer's passed away.
Legally, no one can kill that man.
P. S. But Dear Murderers:
I have a plan.....

I suggest that such a method of examination be dropped.

—Julius Boleyn

If another method — as time-saving for the teacher, but with less fallacies for the students — is considered desirable and necessary, I suggest that next to the possibilities of true or false a third choice is permitted in the case of doubt due to unscientific, childish and confusing statements.

Arbitrarily I think of the statement: "Most deposit accounts in commercial banks are insured" — a confusing statement because one might think that "in any commercial bank most deposit-accounts are insured," which is false, because it is the commercial bank and not its deposit-accounts that are insured and if the commercial bank is insured all deposit-accounts are insured; if it is not, then none are insured.

It can never be said that "most deposit-accounts are insured." In such doubtful cases, the student should be permitted to give "the true statement in his own wording."

Though this may seem not as time-saving, because besides the T's or F's, the doubts have to be graded, including the individual wordings, it will appear that this fear is unfounded. Just as the value of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation is its bank examination before actual bank insurance, the existence of the doubt-possibility will be the safeguard against its own use.

The teacher who knows that doubted statements will take a lot more of his grading time, will think twice before giving an incomplete, childish, unscientific wording to his questions — and clear questions can be answered by "yes" or "no."

Thus, the student is insured against confusing statements.

Finally, clearness in the true or false questions will prove profitable in the education of men who have to be willing and capable to accept the responsibility of word and deed after their graduation.

Alumni News

THEN and NOW Personalities

For the benefit of those members of reunion classes who are planning to come back for June Reunion Week, and also to interest those who might have been in school with some of the reunion classes, a schedule of events, together with special class reunion parties, is being published here.

General functions, to which all graduates and former students are invited, include the annual reception to be given by President and Mrs. Donovan Thursday afternoon, June 1 from four to six o'clock at Maxwell Place; the Alumni banquet that night, and the annual meeting of the Alumni Association, scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. in the Bluegrass room of the Student Union. Anyone wishing to make reservations for this banquet should do so not later than 4 p.m. Wednesday, May 31.

Commencement Luncheon - Friday the commencement luncheon will be held at 12:30 in the Bluegrass Room of the Union, and reservations for this luncheon should be made not later than Wednesday, May 31. This will be a buffet luncheon and no tables will be especially reserved for reunion classes.

Friday night the commencement procession will form at 7:00 p.m. in the circle behind the Student Union, and all members of reunion classes are urged to fall in under their class banners and march in the procession, as special seats will be reserved for the reunion classes, provided the members march under their class banners.

As has been announced in other columns of the Kernel, the dedication of the Memorial Coliseum is scheduled for Tuesday morning, May 30 at ten o'clock, and all alumni are urged to see this impressive ceremony.

Schedule Given

The schedule for special class reunion parties is:
CLASS OF 1900 - Luncheon, Thursday, June 1, at 12:30 p.m.

UK Pershing Riflemen Host Buckeye Schools

The University Pershing Rifle Team is acting as host to seven Ohio rifle teams at the annual First Regiment drill meet being held on campus today and tomorrow.

The University team, Company C-1, is trying for its seventh consecutive win and its thirteenth crown in 15 years.

Rifle Match Is Today
The meet, which started last night with a banquet at the Phoenix Hotel, will include an eight company rifle match at 8 a.m. today. This afternoon at 1 o'clock exhibition platoon and squad drill will be held and final competitions in platoon and individual drill will be judged tonight at 7:30 on Stoll Field.

The latter program will also include an exhibition between the UK Confederate squad and a Yankee squad from Ohio State University. Each group will be dressed in its respective Civil War uniforms and will execute its movements according to the 1865 manual of arms. All eight companies will participate in Saturday's Armed Forces Day parade, and the visiting companies will be taken on an afternoon tour of Central Kentucky farms.

Ends With Regimental Ball
The annual Regimental Ball, scheduled for Saturday night in the SUB, will conclude the three-day meet.

Inaugurated in 1931, the First Regiment drill meet was won by the University of Illinois. Since then the UK team has won every year.

Faculty Ruling Is Protested

A recommendation to the faculty that they reverse their decision to compel seniors to attend classes after senior grades are given to the registrar was made by SGA at its final meeting of the year Monday night.

The faculty was asked to reconsider their ruling because according to SGA "seniors are so busy attending to the many duties connected with graduation during the last two weeks and the value of the classes attended would not compensate for the resulting inconveniences placed upon the senior."

Dr. Lee Sprowles, University registrar and faculty secretary, said, "The faculty committee on rules placed the recommendation before the faculty May 8, and after some discussion, it was passed."

The rule states that a professor shall penalize any senior who fails to attend these classes by lowering his grade or by giving him an incomplete. It also asks the cooperation of all the faculty members in the enforcement of the rule.

AGR Spring Formal To Be Held In SUB

Alpha Gamma Rho social fraternity will hold a spring formal in the Bluegrass room of the SUB tonight from 8-12 p.m.

The formal will be given in honor of the new initiates.

Decorations will include a replica of the fraternity pin, and a trellis of roses. Smoke Richard's orchestra will furnish music for the dance.

Chaperons for the formal will be Dr. and Mrs. Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Fowler, and Mrs. Francis Wayne, housemother.

UK Classes To Hear Dr. Thompson Speak

THE Blue PRINT

By Bob Gorham

Prof. Vic Portmann of the Journalism Department was an interested spectator at last week's Tennessee-Kentucky games. Prof. Portmann is an old-time ball player himself, and has the scars to prove it. During the course of the games, he related how he had played for ten years in the Minnesota-Iowa Class D League and showed a spike scar ten inches long he got it covering second base in the days when the runner really took out the middle man of a double-play.

Mr. Portmann also told of a game in which he scored the winning run. It was a pitcher's battle and going into the 18th inning, it was almost dark. He led off the inning with a scratch hit off the pitcher's glove and the next batter followed suit. The third man up hit a low outside pitch and sent a little blooper over first. Mr. Portmann said he rounded third and never stopped. When he slid across the plate with the winning tally, the fans came down out of the stands and grabbed him and threw him into the air. When he came down, he found a twenty-dollar bill in each hand!

Prof. Portmann said that in his ten years in pro ball, he had a batting average of .376. He was due to try out with the Minneapolis Millers, but pulled a muscle sliding into a base in a game early in the season, and it cost him his chance. He never played a game after that.

The old pro was treated to some pretty fancy modern-day baseball by the slugging, hard-running Cats as they won that pair of crucial tilts in the Vols. Four or five of the "s came out of the frays with torn noses and scratches and bruises racked up while sliding. The Wildcats are reminiscent of the old-time St. Louis Cardinals the way they use those bases. It's just about a "inch that when Walt Hirsch or Enny Zaranka get on base the steal game will be given to them.

Zaranka swiped five sacks in the two games and Dom Fucci stole one in the first tilt. Hirsch and Zaranka leads the club in this department with 14 each. As for slugging, nothing was left to be desired as the team cracked out five home runs and six doubles in the two games. Bob Hatchett hit the longest homer about 400 feet over the left-centerfield fence. Dom Fucci, Bill Smithers, Doug Moseley, and Allen Hamilton also hit for the circuit.

That isn't a bad average—11 extra-base blows out of a total of 25 hits.

Georgia kicked away what chance it had to dispute Kentucky's bid for its second straight title. The Bulldogs were leading 4-2 in their game with Tech last week, but let the Engineers score three times to take the game away from them. The winning run came on an overthrow of third base from an outfielder. The ball went through the third baseman, through the pitcher who was backing him up, and through the catcher who was backing up the pitcher. It rolled into the dugout and the Engineers rolled around the bases to take the game. Thank you, Georgia!!

WAA News

By Anne Boyd

Tuesday was a gala occasion for the WAA as they ended the day with their annual banquet that evening. There were many awards given, appropriate speeches made and a delicious dinner served.

Over 100 WAA members enjoyed the varied program. A number of campus notables were present as guests, including: Dr. Martha Carr, Head of Women's Physical Education; Dean and Mrs. Martin M. White; Dr. Don Seaton, Head of Men's Physical Education; Mrs. Revell Shaw; Miss Mary Lewis; Miss Nancy Poe; and Miss Cleo Papatos, instructors in Women's Physical Education.

Mrs. Elmer Gilb, Head of Physical Education at University High School was the guest speaker. Intramural (Continued to Page 6)

Cats Clinch SEC Eastern Title Against Vols

Newton Slated For Hill Chores In Opening Tilt

BULLETIN: Kentucky has already clinched the Eastern Division baseball title, according to Athletic Director Bernie Shively, who is attending an SEC meet in Birmingham.

Shively called his office Thursday at noon and made this statement but did not give any further explanation.

It is believed, however, that he based his statement on a probable ruling by SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore that ALL games played in the SEC count toward the division standings. It was thought at first that only the games in the division would determine the winner, but that evidently has been changed.

Hence, Georgia has been eliminated mathematically, since their record now includes two defeats at the hands of the Florida Gators earlier in the season.

The Kentucky Wildcats will be out after their second consecutive Eastern Division SEC crown when they take on the Tennessee Vols today and tomorrow in single games in Knoxville.

The Cats are only a half-game away from clinching the title. They swept a doubleheader here last weekend from the Vols while Georgia was losing to Georgia Tech in Athens. Thus, the Bulldogs need to win all their three remaining games with the Engineers while Tennessee must defeat Kentucky twice in order for Georgia to take the crown. A Kentucky win or a Georgia loss would eliminate the Peach Staters and give the halo to the Bluegrass boys.

Kentucky had to do it the hard way in the two tilts with Tennessee. The Friday game was rained out, and had to be played as part of a double header Saturday. Even then about 50 gallons of gasoline had to be burned on the field in order for it to be dry enough to play on.

If that wasn't enough, the Cats had to go an extra inning to salvage an 11-10 verdict in the first game, and then had to put up a home-run barrage to take the second contest, 7-6.

They appeared to have the first one tucked away with an 8-2 lead going into the eighth, but a home run by Dick Bowers with the sacks full pulled the Vols up to an 8-6 count.

Kentucky upped the count to 9-6 with a single counter in the eighth, and had to score twice in the bottom of the tenth to edge the boisterous Tennesseans who counted three times in the ninth and once in the tenth.

Guy Strong was the fair-haired lad in the opener. His hard hit ball to deep third got the tying run across after two were out, and the winning tally came in when the Tennessee third-sacker committed a throwing error after knocking down Strong's hit.

Strong not only drove in the winning runs, but snuffed out a big Vol rally in the ninth after they had hopped on starter C. M. Newton and (Continued to Page 6)

Cat Golfers Take Tech Twice; Runs Winning Streak To Five

By Fred Lawson

Kentucky's golfers won two straight victories from Georgia Tech over the weekend to run their winning streak to five. Friday the Wildcats defeated Tech 11-7 and Saturday the Cats blasted out a 14½-3½ victory.

It was their 11th and 12th wins of the season. It was the sixth Southeastern Conference win against two losses and a tie.

These games closed the linksmen's home schedule for the season. At home the Wildcats lost only one match, that one to the University of Louisville in the opening match of the season.

Wright on Beam

Craig Wright led the way in both games last Friday and Saturday at the Lexington Country Club. He stole the show as he shot sub-par golf both days.

Friday Craig toured the course in 71 strokes, one-under-par, and on

Cats' SEC Track Chances Dimmed As Dallas Pulls Muscle In Preps

UK Defeats UL In Last Meet

By Don Armstrong

Kentucky's chances for a victory in the SEC track meet which starts today in Birmingham, Ala., were dimmed when their star track man, Tony Dallas, was injured in practice.

Dallas pulled a leg muscle Monday in practice and will be a doubtful starter for the Wildcats.

Leading the list of Wildcat hopefuls is Guy Weeks, who will enter the high and low hurdles. Cliff Lawson and Charles Willis round out the track entrants, Lawson running the 100 and 220 and Willis the two-mile run.

In the field events, John Ignarski will throw the shot, Al Bruno the discus, and John Netoskie the javelin.

Wildcats Defeat UL 66-56

Captain Tony Dallas led the Wildcat thinsies to a 66-56 road victory over the University of Louisville last Saturday as he broke one Belknap track record and tied another.

Dallas bettered the mark for the high hurdles as he covered the 120-yard distance in 15.9 and tied the low hurdle record of 24.7 seconds. He also posted wins in the high and broad jumps.

UL's Charles Jett turned in the best performance for the Cards with a record tying 51 seconds in the 440 and a win in the 220-yard dash.

The summaries:
100-yard dash — 1. Lawson (K); 2. George (L); 3. Farley (K). Time 16.2.
220-yard dash — 1. Jett (L); 2. Lawson (K); 3. George (L). Time 22.9.
440-yard dash — 1. Jett (L); 2. Wilkinson (L); 3. Bell (L). Time 31.0.

BOOK REVIEW

BASEBALL'S GREATEST HITTERS by Tom Meany. Published by A. S. Barnes and Company, New York. $3.00.

Here is one of the best baseball books to hit the market in many a year. Presented in interesting individual stories are portraits of the top 20 hitters that the game has ever known.

The stories cover the major league careers and enlightening sidelights about some of the greatest figures the game has ever known including Lou Gehrig, Roger Hornsby, Mel Ott, Joe Jackson, Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Ted Williams, Al Simmons, and 12 other of the outstanding hitters of the century.

The lead-off story concerns Ty Cobb and in this story Ty himself talks about how and why he "came in with his spikes high" and batting tips that he learned during his 20-year major league career.

Some of the tremendous home runs slugged by Jimmy Foxx are described by the author and there is an interesting story about the "Heir Apparent"—Ralph Kiner.

Each individual story is accompanied by a photograph of the player and the last pages of the 278-page book are filled with the complete playing records of the 20 men who make up "baseball's greatest hitters."

awards which had been won throughout the year were presented by Phyllis Kloecker, former president of WAA. Miss Kloecker also presented the new officers of WAA, as follows: President—Dot Honaker; Vice-President—Eula West; Treasurer—Louise Borie; and Secretary—Marilyn McDonald. The new council members also were named.

The much prized WAA letters were presented by Billie Moore. Approximately two years of diligent WAA participation is needed to qualify for this award. Up until Tuesday night Dot Honaker were the only WAA letter on the campus. Seven people were honored by this award at the banquet. They were: Chris Morris, Bonnie Sharp, Billie Moore, Phyllis Kloecker, Phyl Warren, Eula West and Anne Boyd.

reliever Ray Wiseman for three runs. It was the second time that the Irvine lad had come in to save the day for the Cats. He did the same thing in Kentucky's 8-7 win over Georgia, starring in a relief role and driving in the winning runs.

In the second game, Tennessee got off to a 3-0 lead over Bob Hatchett and his mates, but the Wildcats finally got to starter Ace Adams and shelled him from the box in the fourth. Billy Joe Bowman, who failed to survive in the first game, was called in to stem the tide, but he served up three home run balls—to Bob Hatchett, Doug Moseley, and Bill Smithers—and that was the ball game.

Field Narrowed To Five In I-M Softball Tourney

By Lewis Donohew

The new softball champion of the University of Kentucky was only a couple of strides from his crown as the Kernel went to press this week.

Only five teams were left in the running for the championship and three of these were once-beaten teams. Delta Tau Delta in the fraternity division and Breck Hall in the independent loop were the only contenders holding perfect records in the two-losses-and-out tournament.

Lambda Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon are scheduled to meet this afternoon on Alumni Field to decide who gets a shot at the Delt in the finals of the fraternity tourney.

Breck Hall and Tavern Boys were slated for a clash yesterday afternoon in the finals of the independent round.

The winners of the respective tourneys are to meet next week for the school championship.

SAE kept their hopes alive for the fraternity championship by clinching the Sig Eps, 4-0, on a three-hitter by their star tosser, Carol Jacobs. It was Jacobs second straight shutout victory.

Line score:
Sigma Phi Epsilon ..... 000 00-0
Sigma Alpha Epsilon ..... 400 0x-4
Batteries: Spears and Hibbs; Jacobs and Rodgers.

The Delt's extra-inning victory over Lambda Chi and Tavern Boys' disputed triumph over Scott Street Barracks were the top games on last week's five game card.

A five-run uprising with two men out in the eighth inning gave the Delt an 11-6 margin over Lambda Chi a slot in the finals. Little Les Lingenfelter, LXA hurler, was forced to leave the game because of injury at the start of the inning and the Delt staged a rally at the expense of the relief tosser.

Lambda Chi Alpha .029 040 00-6
Batteries: Caswell and Tharp; Lingenfelter, Macke (8) and Donohew.

Alpha Sigma Phi stamped out Kappa Sigma, 8-7, early in the week and then were defeated by the SAE's to drop out of the running. Carol Jacobs tossed a two-hitter for the SAE's in their 8-0 victory in the latter contest.

Line score:
Alpha Sigma Phi ..... 121 40-8

Netters Lose To Cincinnati

The Kentucky tennis team winds up its season tomorrow against Georgia Tech. The match between the two schools will begin at 2 o'clock on the Downing Courts, opposite the UK Men's Dorms.

The netters were whitewashed by the University of Cincinnati, 9-0, there last Saturday. It was the Wildcats' fifth loss in six starts. For Cincinnati it was the ninth win against five defeats.

Kentucky won only two sets. Omar Tatum won just one set from Cincinnati's Carl Gross as he went down 3-6, 11-9, 6-0.

The Wildcat's Charlie Holland and Charles Eppley lost to Thomas and Ingle 6-3, 5-7, 6-0 in a doubles match.

Summaries:
Singles
Charles Thomas (C) defeated Charlie Holland, 6-3, 6-0.
Carl Gross (C) defeated Omar Tatum, 3-6, 11-9, 6-0.
